

Do you have questions about your retirement accounts and financial goals? Your City of Detroit retirement plan advisor team can help.

Personal assistance from experienced professionals

Your retirement plan advisors are your primary contacts for retirement account information. They can help you:

- Understand available tools and program features designed to improve your financial wellness and retirement readiness.
- Know what investment options are offered through the plan and get help with investment decisions.
- Plan for your income needs in retirement.

The role of your retirement plan advisor is to assist you with your deferred compensation plan account. There are no fees or commissions related to meeting with a retirement plan advisor.
